The Importance of a Healthy Gut Microbiome

what is a microbiome?

A microbiome is the well-defined habitat and environmental conditions of bacteria, genes, DNA, genetic codes and so much more.

where do microbiomes exist?

All over! There are human, animal, and environmental microbiomes!

what is the human gut microbiome?

The human gut microbiome is the entire digestive system from the mouth to the rectum. It includes all the foods, liquids, medicines, toxins, chemicals, probiotics, prebiotics, viruses, and even occasional penny or pebble that enters.

It also includes all enzymes, digestive fluids, hormones, chemicals, nutrients, and any intermingling of these items within the gastrointestinal (GI) tract.

The gut microbiome is amazingly unique for each person.

The Importance of a Healthy Gut Microbiome

what do we know about the gut microbiome?

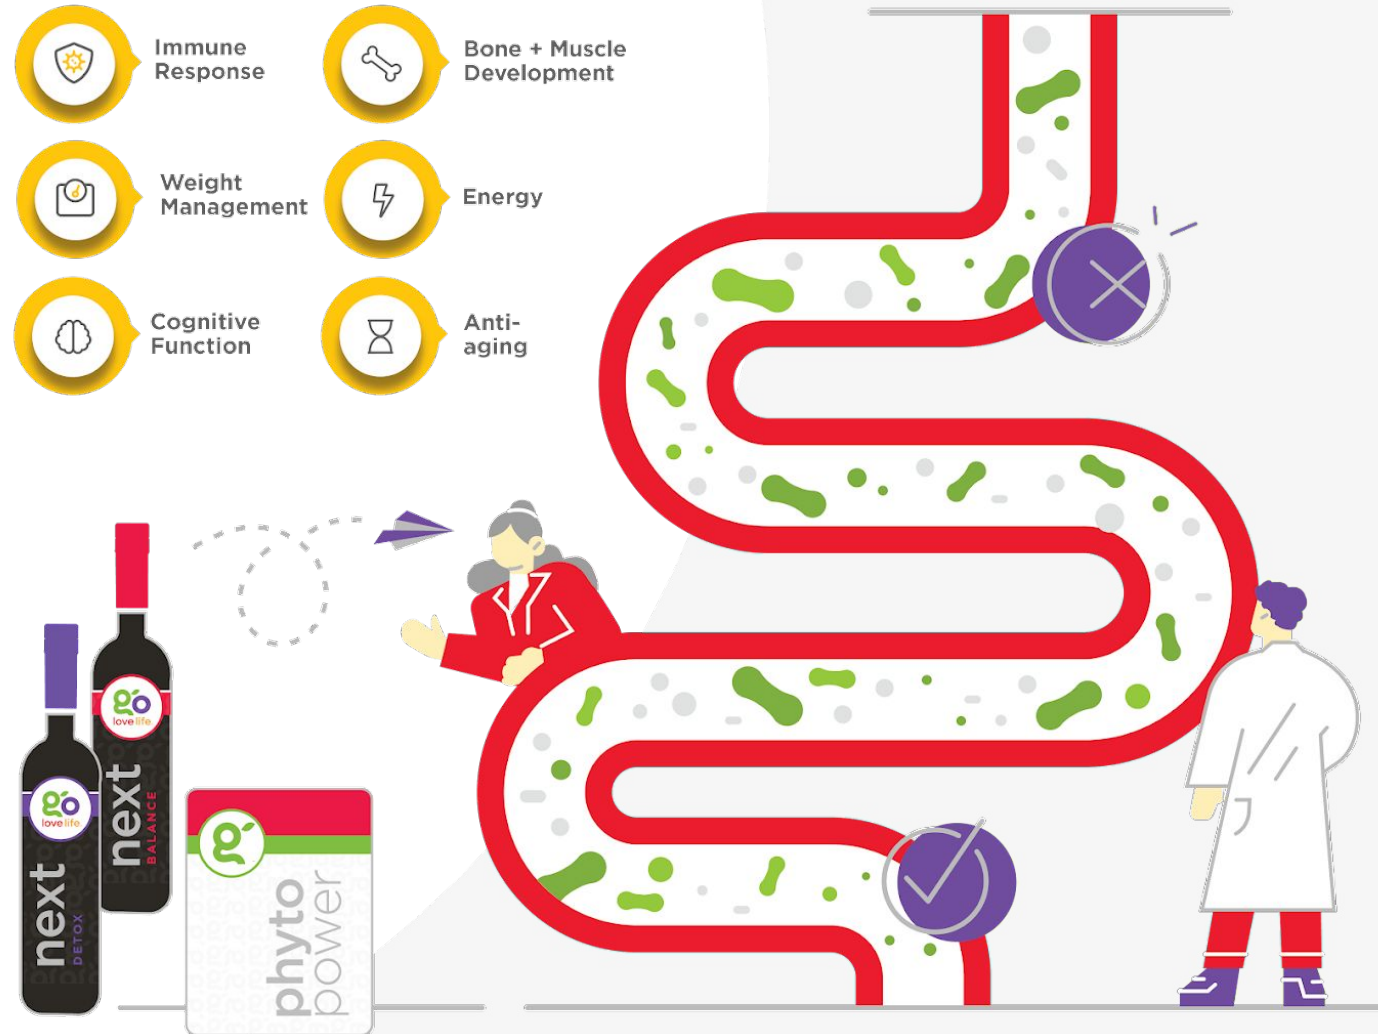

We're getting more information every day, but there's still a lot to learn! We know that bacteria and their constantly changing genomes in the GI tract have a beneficial boost to optimal health.

Almost all aspects of optimal health derive benefit from what happens in the human gut microbiome.

how to keep the microbiome healthy

Eating a diet rich in fruits and vegetables is a great way to keep the microbiome healthy. With our busy lifestyle and lack of quality fruits and vegetables available, the Daily 3 System - PhytoPower, Next Balance and Next Detox - can help balance the microbiome.

Developing this daily regimen will help to keep the microbiome healthy and assist all systems in the body.

We acknowledge the commitment of our leaders with a huge reward at the sixth level. Traditionally, volume grows and expands at that level, and Leaders are able to receive a bonus on that volume, in addition to commissions already earned. The potential then is to earn a Leadership Bonus of 1-10%, adding to your sixth-level commissions.

Dynamic Compression Bonus

Members of our team were the first to invent the concept of dynamic compression 25 years ago. Now the GO Love Life team is reinventing the entire concept.

- All dynamically compressed volume from the entire organization, across all lines, is accumulated into one bonus pool where our most committed leaders will obtain a share.
- The shares will be earned based on leadership and continued activity.
- Imagine your share of all the dynamic compression volume from the entire organization.
- The GO Love Life plan gives new members a head start, builders incentive to grow and leaders the proper rewards for commitment and activity.
